After a Decade

Celebrating clients that have been at Cummings Center for more than 10 years

MicroData started its office in Topsfield. The company was looking to downsize in 2001 and originally came to Cummings Center through a sublease at the 800 building. In 2006, MicroData moved to its own space at 100 Cummings Center, Suite 146-N, where it has remained for 11 years.

President Glenn Mores and his team appreciate that their space is completely built out to suit their needs and that Cummings Center is so well kempt. "The well-maintained common areas, campus, and the 24/7 snow team make it such a livable location. You can tell that Cummings Properties' employees really care about the property. It provides a professional environment at a reasonable price," he said. "Cummings Center is such an accessible central North Shore location, too. There are so many ways to get here from surrounding areas."

MicroData specializes in information technology outsourcing and private cloud hosting. During its time at Cummings Center, its business has significantly changed. The company's operations have transitioned from a traditional support model to contracted virtual support. The Beverly headquarters has six on-site employees and one employee who works remotely.

"We enjoy being a part of clients' journeys at Cummings Center, always trying to work with companies wherever they are in their lifecycle," said Cummings Properties account manager Justin D'Aveta. "Glenn and the whole MicroData team are great! We look forward to a continued happy business relationship."
